What is SAP ADOBE Form?

This is a partnership between ADOBE and SAP to automate and streamline form based communication for customers who create reusable forms for their business processes.

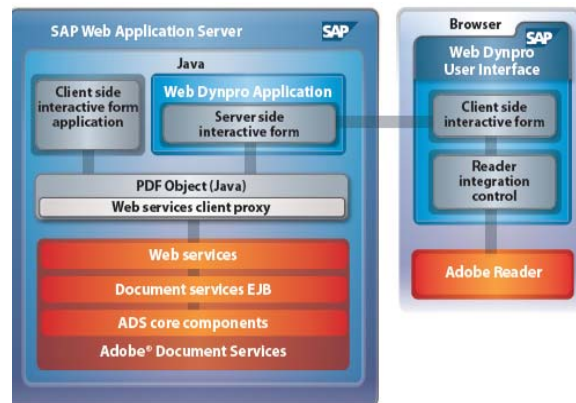

Document components, such as fields for entering customer information, form-field calculations, and inclusion of branded communications, can be added to forms without programming, speeding time-to-value for organizations deploying interactive document services.

Validation features within form fields help ensure that end-users enter the right type of information in the right field, further speeding transactions and helping guarantee high-quality data from end-users.
